

GIFT CERTIFICATE

For One Private

Sound Healing Session, by appointment

It is my honor to sit with you, while together we create a safe container of honor and respect. In this container, my intention is that you receive healing sounds – such as crystal bowls, Tibetan brass bowls, bells, and gentle drumming – each of which will be played in the highest vibration of love for your personal empowerment on all levels. You will simply rest on my massage table which is covered with an Amethyst BioMat. The BioMat was developed based on Nobel prize-winning scientific research pioneered by NASA (see BioMat Stress Reduction Study by Dr. George Grant) and created using pure, natural materials. A BioMat is an approved medical device by the FDA, and it uses many pounds of hot amethyst crystal to produce a unique signal of infrared light that does not produce EMFs. This light is experienced as a wholesome and enveloping warmth that is both gentle and powerful at the same time. The benefits of this hot crystal therapy must be experienced to be believed. The BioMat coupled with soothing healing sounds is an incredible gift to give yourself! I look forward to our time together. Click here to provide your energy exchange.

About Cyndy Paige

Cyndy draws on nearly three decades of sitting at the feet of her many teachers, including Grammy-nominated teacher and author, Jonathan Goldman, master drummer Ed “Two Moons” Rothwell, many indigenous shamans, her experience in classical voice and performance, and mostly, the profound moments she has shared with her students and clients. Cyndy has a private healing and teaching practice with offices in both North Carolina and Pennsylvania. Additionally, she facilitates shamanic apprenticeships, vision quest experiences, solstice and equinox retreats, and numerous empowerment and restorative workshops. She is also invited to be a guest speaker at conferences and independent schools. Cyndy loves creating and assisting others to create, Native American-style medicine tools such as drums, rattles, medicine bags, and other sacred objects. She humbly honors her teachers, both seen and unseen.

Cyndy Paige (610) 563-3918 (text ok), www.RhythmOfTheEarth.com, info@rhythmoftheearth.com

